Safe Harbor Statement

Except for the historical information contained herein, certain of the matters discussed in this Filing constitute “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the Securities Act of 1933 and the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, both as amended by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements include statements regarding benefits of the proposed merger, integration plans, and expected synergies, anticipated future financial and operating performance and results, including estimates for growth. These statements are based on the current expectations of management of Exelon Corporation (“Exelon”), Commonwealth Edison Company (“ComEd”), PECO Energy Company (“PECO”), and Exelon Generation Company, LLC (“Exelon Generation” and together with Exelon, ComEd and PECO, the “Exelon Registrants”), and the current expectations of management of Public Service Enterprise Group Incorporated (“PSEG”), Public Service Electric and Gas Company (“PSE&G”), PSEG Power LLC (“PSEG Power”), and PSEG Energy Holdings LLC (“PSEG Holdings” and together with PSEG, PSE&G and PSEG Power, the “PSEG Registrants”). There are a number of risks and uncertainties that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements included in this filing. For example, (1) the companies may be unable to obtain shareholder approvals required for the merger; (2) the companies may be unable to obtain regulatory approvals required for the merger, or required regulatory approvals may delay the merger or result in the imposition of conditions that could have a material adverse effect on the combined company or cause the companies to abandon the merger; (3) conditions to the closing of the merger may not be satisfied; (4) an unsolicited offer of another company to acquire assets or capital stock of Exelon or PSEG could interfere with the merger; (5) problems may arise in successfully integrating the businesses of the companies, which may result in the combined company not operating as effectively and efficiently as expected; (6) the combined company may be unable to achieve cost-cutting synergies or it may take longer than expected to achieve those synergies; (7) the merger may involve unexpected costs or unexpected liabilities, or the effects of purchase accounting may be different from the companies’ expectations; (8) the credit ratings of the combined company or its subsidiaries may be different from what the companies expect; (9) the businesses of the companies may suffer as a result of uncertainty surrounding the merger; (10) the companies may experience more difficulties than expected in achieving operating improvements at jointly owned nuclear generating facilities; (11) the companies may not realize the values expected to be obtained for properties expected or required to be divested; (12) the industry may be subject to future regulatory or legislative actions that could adversely affect the companies; and (13) the companies may be adversely affected by other economic, business, and/or competitive factors. Other unknown or unpredictable factors could also have material adverse effects on future results, performance or achievements of the combined company. A discussion of some of these other important factors and assumptions is contained in the Exelon Registrants' and PSEG Registrants' respective filings with the SEC, including: (1) the Exelon Registrants' 2003 Annual Report on Form 10-K — Item 7. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial condition and Results of Operations — Business Outlook and the Challenges in Managing Our Business for Each of Exelon, ComEd, PECO, and Exelon Generation; (2) the Exelon Registrants' 2003 Annual Report on Form 10-K — Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data: Exelon — Note 19, ComEd — Note 15, PECO — Note 14, and Exelon Generation — Note 13; and (3) the PSEG Registrants' Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended September 30, 2004 — Forward Looking Statements. These risks, as well as other risks associated with the merger, will be more fully discussed in the joint proxy statement/prospectus that will be included in the Registration Statement on Form S-4 that Exelon will file with the SEC in connection with the proposed merger. In light of these risks, uncertainties, assumptions and factors, the forward-looking events discussed in this Filing may not occur. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this Filing. None of the Exelon Registrants or PSEG Registrants undertakes any obligation to publicly release any revision to its forward-looking statements to reflect events or circumstances after the date of this Filing.

To Our Shareholders, Customers and Employees,

We are pleased and proud to announce the merger agreement between Exelon Corporation and Public Service Enterprise Group (PSEG) to create the nation's premier utility company, Exelon Electric & Gas, following shareholder and regulatory approvals. With $79 billion in total assets upon completion of the merger, we will serve 7 million electric and 2 million gas customers in Illinois, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

This partnership makes great strategic sense for both our companies. We will increase value for our shareholders, continue to improve our service to our customers, maintain our substantial presence in the cities and communities we serve, and create opportunities for our employees.

We have a strong culture and a strong vision for our new company. It is underpinned by one main tenet — to live up to our commitments.

While a merger such as this always brings about change, our commitments to our key constituencies — shareholders, customers, communities and employees — remain steadfast.

- For our shareholders, improved efficiencies and a larger service footprint will result in greater earnings predictability. Stability and growth, while appearing to be contradictory terms, are exactly what our shareholders want from their investments. This merger offers both.
- For our customers, this combination will create an extraordinary utility system with enhanced safety, reliability and efficiency. It will allow us to improve our operations by taking advantage of our individual strengths. Exelon is a leader in the nuclear generation business. PSEG brings a highly regarded expertise in transmission and distribution operations, as well as in retail auctions. Our customers expect and deserve the best performance. This merger will help us achieve that goal.
- For the communities we serve and the environment in which we work and live, we are absolutely committed to be a part of the social fabric. We will sustain our record of charitable and civic contributions, economic development and environmental stewardship.
- For our employees, a larger, stronger organization will offer a more secure employer and better opportunities for career development. Our employees' hard work and commitment to serving the public have enabled us to grow and we thank them.

This new company will bring new challenges and great responsibilities. If we meet all of our responsibilities well enough, if we do the job well enough, we will give you the finest electric and gas company in the nation. We stand united, strong and committed to making that vision come true.
